

Christine DuBois

Christine DuBois joined HRDC in June 1988 and is currently Director, Office of Learning Technologies (OLT), Learning and Literacy Directorate. OLT engages partners and sponsors using technology to enhance learning and skills development, allowing Canadians to participate fully in the workplace and their community. OLT achieves this through contribution funding, awareness activities and research initiatives.

Christine was previously the Director of the Canada Education Savings Grant Program, a recipient of the CIO 100 award for customer satisfaction and Director of Corporate Services in HRDC's Systems organization which was awarded one of the top federal government technology awards for its successful Informatics Planning Process.